You can download or read online the Kannada Gadegalu With Explanation pdf DownloadQ: Producer-Consumer data array with Thread I have a producer-consumer problem with a data ArrayList which contains Objects. The Producer part works perfectly fine but as soon as I want to read the data the Consumer only gets the data in the first Iteration of the loop. I think it has something to do with the Thread. The for loop at the beginning of the producer part is synchronized since the Producer needs to send a Client object to the consumer part and it will modify Client. Heres the code: class Producer implements Runnable { public static void main(String[] args) { Client client = new Client("client1"); ArrayList datalist = new ArrayList(); Thread producer = new Thread(this, "Producer", 10, true); producer.start(); for (int i = 0; i liste = new ArrayList(); public Consumer(ArrayList liste) {
